

Search for questions, people, and topics

Sign In

Autism Asperger Syndrome Autism Spectrum Disorders

Is it true that people with Autism Spectrum Disorders have a very strong sense of right and wrong that they adhere to? Is it true that they hate lying? If yes, do they also not lie?

16 Answers

Natalie Engelbrecht, Psychotherapist, Researcher, HF-Autistic at WNHC (1996-present)

Updated Sep 25, 2017 · Author has 786 answers and 6.7m answer views

Original question asked: Is it true that people with Autism Spectrum Disorders have a very strong sense of right and wrong that they adhere to? Is it true that they hate lying? If yes, do they also not lie?

LYING & ASD—A PHILOSOPHICAL DISCUSSION